WILLIAM INGRAM... a private, in a recent letter to Miss Irene Mills, states: "I am in a hospital recovering from burns which resulted from an explosion. Most of my hair has been burned off and I look somewhat like a feathered chicken. You will please excuse my writing—my hands are twice their natural size. Please say hello to everyone for me."

GOOD OLD DAYS

In the early days of motoring, an "anti-automobile" society ruled that the motorist, on approaching a team of horses, should stop off the road and cover his machine with a blanket painted to correspond with the scenery. The society also decreed that the night driver should proceed carefully, blowing his horn and shooting off Roman candles.

If drop cookies tend to spread unevenly, bake them in well-greased muffin tins, allowing a tablespoon of batter per cookie. Then they'll raise to a uniform size.

ARMY NURSES NEEDED

Immediate recruitment of 10,000 nurses for the Army Nurse Corps would not seriously cripple nursing in civilian fields, the Ninth Service Command Surgeon declared today.

Rotary Club Is Pushing New Pueblo Program

Judge Otto B. Willett, president of Torrance Rotary Club has announced that a collection to initiate the recreation facilities for the Pueblo section of Torrance thus far is meeting with anticipated success.

The amount collected will be supplemented with donations from every civic club, fraternal organization, interested industrial plants, and commercial organizations, until the required sum has been obtained, he said. It is estimated that the project will cost about $5,000 embracing an adequate building and necessary furnishings and fixtures.

Jaime Frausto and Ruven Gaxiola of the Mexican consulate in Los Angeles, will address the club tonight on "How Service Clubs Can Best Cooperate With the Mexican Population." The program is being arranged by the international service committee of the Torrance Rotary Club to encourage and stimulate better understanding between the nations of the Americas and to instill interest in the proposed Pueblo project.

James L. Lynch, chairman of the international service committee and William R. Lee, chairman of the community service committee, are taking the lead in an effort to insure the success of the project through the medium of voluntary donations and subscriptions.

Interested persons and organizations may send their checks to Judge Willett, made payable to Rotary Pueblo Fund.

Lamphere Sees
First Convoy on Stillwell Road

In a letter to Miss Irene Mills, Sgt. George S. Lamphere, serving in China with a photograph.

ic reconnaissance squadron said he witnessed the arrival of the first convoy from India to China via the new "Stillwell Road." "It was very interesting and very welcome," he said. "Special archways were built, all along the road through town and posters on all the store fronts welcomed the arrival of the 'first' convoy over the Stillwell Road." As the convoy reached us all sound was drowned out by barrage after barrage of fire crackers. The streets for a distance of about three miles were lined with Chinese soldiers deep with thumbs up (meaning "Ding-ho" or in English "very good," and all cheering. The most welcome sight for me were the American Negroes. They've had a rough deal of it all the way along—since the start of the retaking of the road—and were really enjoying the celebration awaiting them. Today marked the first major victory of the war in this theatre and with it presented the opportunity for many more to come."
